Farming-Banking Interdependent This is a perfectly obvious attitude, because country banking cannot be successfully and profitably carried on unless farming is successfully and profitably operated—the two businesses are dependent upon each other. There is no longer any question that the time has arrived for these interdependent businesses to reach a common ground of understanding of requirements that both must meet for their mutual welfare.

As An Agriculturalist Sees Farm Board's Job

The new Agricultural Marketing Act approaches farm relief from a materially different point of view from that of former bills before Congress in recent years, says Dean H. L. Russell of Wisconsin University College of Agriculture in the American Bankers As-

sion has been carefully chosen to give undivided attention to an effort to assumed by this commission. No board ever created by congressional action has been clothed with as wide plenary powers. It is authorized not only to advise but to execute, to plan and put its plans into effective action, to buy and hold, to dump, to dip into the Federal treasury to accomplish its ends with what would be almost unlimited resources to any private com-mercial concern. The board's only job is to succeed, and no governnental agency even during the wa ator. Such procedure is far from the case. Ald is to be extended through cooperative organizations by making it possible for such groups to obtain cash advances to hold crops so as to permit of more orderly marketing.

"While the primary relation is with cooperatives, the individual or unor ganized farmer will also profit by the activities of his organized fellows. If a stabilized program of merchandising

"It is here the government is pro-posing a novel attempt in economics. Through stabilization corporations for influence on prices. bilisation despoyation to stabilise? It would be one thing if it had merely to stabilise the American situation, but THE BANK'S PART IN THE FARM PROBLEM often that situation is complicated with world conditions. Perhaps the very fact that such a stabilisation corporation is in position to function may have a steadying effect on the market. "Markets' respond to psychological stimuli as do individuals. The very fact that the government has now def-initely stepped into the breach with all of its resources available to make the new plan work will exert un-doubtedly a strong stabilizing effect.

"It would be presumptuous to fore-cast what the ultimate effect of the new act will be. It can, however, be definitely stated that in the present definitely stated that in the present plan much of the philosophy that had been so drastically criticized as eco-nomically unsound has been elimi-nated. The existing plan is worth strying. It will undoubtedly cost the iFederal treasury no inconsiderable amounts of money, but if it produces well worth while."

BANKING FINDS THE WAY TO SAFER ERA

By FRANK W. SIMMONDS,

American Bankers Association In considering the banking situaion throughout the country, the fact should be kept in mind that while one bank in ten failed during the past eight years, it is far more important that nine banks out of ten, operating in the same general field, serving the same communities and meeting almost identically the same problems, weathered the economic storm of readjustment successfully. This achieve-ment cannot be ascribed to any ele-ment of luck, but rather to consistent adherence to sound banking principles and profitable practices. Through worthy and efficient management they met the issues and problems confronting them, squarely and successfully.

Banking is regarded as the keystone of our entire business structure, hence bank failures are rightly regarded as intolerable public calamities that must absolutely be prevented. The three major objectives of all inter-bank organizations, whether local, county, district, state or national, are to make banking safer for all concerned and, through increased efficiency in bank management and supervision, to lessen or eliminate all forms of losses so that greater rewards may accrue to banking and better service to the public. There is definite evidence throughout the country of a strong and growing spirit of cooperation among bankers and banking organizations, which is resulting more and more in strength ening the work of all.

Clearinghouse associations amon banks in city, county or district group: undoubtedly constitute the chief line o. defense against bad banking practices They have demonstrated that they are he principal factor in bringing reformation in banking regulations improvements in banking methods and observance of sound banking prin ciples. For many years the primary purpose of a clearinghouse association was the clearance of checks, but today it is the clearance of banking ideas and the solution of banking problems. Clearinghouses supply the local ma-chinery essential for setting up and putting in practice necessary stand-ards and uniformities. There are now 435 clearinghouse associations in cities, towns, counties and groups of counties in the United States.

Men today are more intelligently group-minded than ever before. Bank-ing is combining the best elements of competition with sound group action. By virtue of this combination, individ-ual thought has much wider possibilities of expression. In general, group action has not stifled but has stimu-lated individual thinking and initia-Better inter-bank organization tive. and relationships afforded by clearing houses would have undoubtedly saved many institutions that have suffered failure in the past. The clearing house activities of the American Bank ers Association are conducted for the purpose of encouraging ever widening cooperation along fundamental principles and practices among banks through clearinghouse associations. Bankers in every city, county or district can, through the agency of a clearinghouse, promote better, safer and more profitable banking and also serve their communities better.

There never was a time when suc-cessful bankers were so alert to the value of team work for putting the entire banking structure in prime condition. Sound bank management is the order of the day. Constructive cooperation is more than a sentiment, it is an economic necessity, a matter of enlightened self-interest, and suc-cessful bankers more and more are utilizing the agency of constructive group action in developing and estab lishing necessary standards and uni-formities in banking practices. Each year banking is becoming more of a science and attaining higher professional standards,

PUBLIC UTILITY BONDS
Because of the universal need and use of the products of Public Utilities, well-made bonds issued by them are a good, safe security. As an authority aptly puts it:

"Every one uses gas and electricity; either directly or indirectly. Most people, have one or both in their homess. But, even though a man may nor have them in his home, he probably works in a store or a factory which does have them, eldes to work in 'an electric street ear,' and is constantly dependent in one way and another on the Public Utilities companies."

The better known Public Utility securities are the following:
Street Railway honds
Gas bonds
Electric Mehr honds

Gas bonds Electric Light bonds Water Company bonds Water Power bonds.

Water Power bonds.

Telephone and Telegraph bonds.
Selecting the ideal type of Public Utility Investment requires study and shrewd, judgment. The Issuing of more and more holding company securities and the accompanying tendency toward overcapitulization are indeed compilicating the Public Utility investment situation. Competition among various public utilities to secure control of certain territories has resulted in the payment of inflated prices by certain large holding organizations, "Watering of Stock" and over-capitalization have been the outcome, and dangerously so for the imprudent investor. dent investor.

It is aimost impossible in many instances to analyze satisfactorily the true condition of Public Utility subsidiaries. One rarcly knows what is behind the securities of such corporations.

However, Straus Brothers Investment Institute believes that there are many desirable Public Utility securities.

curities that offer the utmost to curities that offer the utmost to the conservative investor. Usually the bonds of operating companies are preferable to the collateral trust obligations of the holding company. Some Public Utility bonds do not yield as high a return as other bonds equally as safe. Usually if the issue is a large one, such as the Commonwealth Edison 4½'s of '56, the interest return is relatively low and the marketability high. But if the issue is a small one—such as those of many hydro-electric and street railway companies of small towns—the interest raile will be high and the marketability low.

Sino-Russian War Clouds Denses Over Manchuria Senate Tariff Bill.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

WAR between Chins and Soviet Rissia became increasingly probable during the week, and China let the world know that if it did come, Russia sions should be blumed, Several weeks ago it was said in these columns that the busis of the Manchurian trouble was the incurable itch of the Russians to sovietize the rest of the world, and this fact is emphasized in identical communications delivered by China's envoys to the ents of all nations signatory to the Keliogs pact. The note handed Secretary of State Stimson by Min-later Wu makes the flat charge that the Union of Soviet Socialist Repub lics has been plotting to overthrow the Chinese government and says the latter has the documents to prove this

Since 1927, the Chinese government declares, Russia has been conducting communistic propaganda in China, using the funds of the Chinese Eastrallway to finunce these activities. These involved, it is charged, not only the overthrow of the Chinese government but the destruction of China's political and economic system.

These activities, it is added, have progressed to a point where the safety of China is endangered. China also charges Russia with sponsoring a policy of wholesale assassinations, one of the purposes of which was to bring about a world wide revolution.

In the present crisis on the Manchurian frontier Russia, the Chinese say, has been making warlike threats involving not only firing into but the operation of military airplanes over Chinese territory. China, says the communication, still hopes for peace. It adds that "should such acts of provocation on the part of the Soviet government result in unavoidable clashes arising out of China's determination to defend her own rights the responsibility for disturbing the peace of the world must entirely rest with the Soviet government."

During the week there were repeat ed clashes between Chinese and Rus-sian troops which in one or two instances amounted to real battles. Each side accused the other of invasion but the dispatches indicated that the Soviet forces were the more aggressive in making horder raids. The Nanking reinforcements to the Manchurian frontier, and recent cablegrams from Tokyo said Russian troops had alcompleted mobilization and soon to march on Harbin, the Manchurian railroad center. It asserted this advance was to be a "punitive expedition" and that the Soviet government was determined to force China to comply with its demands regarding the Chinese Eastern railway but would make no formal declaration of war. Several trains on the Chinese Eastern were dynamited re-cently and Soviet agents were arrested charged with the crime.

R EPUBLICAN members of the sen-A ate finance committee completed their draft of the revised tariff bill and made it public, and immediately was started the battle of words that is certain to be continued with in-creasing fury when the senate begins consideration of the measure. Senator Reed Smoot, chairman of the committee, gave out figures as proof that the bill drawn up by his conferees represents a scaling down of duties from the house bill rates.

The comparisons showed equivalent ad valorems for the senate committee bill, the house bill and the present law. It was indicated the senate committee decreased rates in ten of the fifteen schedules from the duties of the house bill. In four schedules the revision was upward and in one there was no change.

The revised bill represents in-

HILE the representatives of the allied nations at The Hague were still disputing over the division o German reparations, with small pros-pect of limitediate agreement, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, informed them that, whether or not the Young plan was ratifled by September 1, Germany could pay, betips chief or by the cheef experts, namely, $487,000,000 n/year.

Prenier: Artsubde Briand of France replied that since the Young Dan has not been adopted the German government must continue to carry out the trenty is force—the Dawes plan—which the rechests had ratified.

Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, said he considered the Germans must continue their payments according to the Dawes plan, which is the only recognized scheme for reparations.

British and Belgian troops were preparing to evacuate the second zone of the Rhineland, but Premier Briand said the evacuation of 60,000 French troops from the occupied territory hurriedly would be difficult since barracks were lacking in France to house them. It was understood that by Janunry 1 the allied troops of occupation to the number of less than 20,000 would be out of all but the last zone, the Mayence bridgehead.

As for the split of reparations, London dispatches indicated that Morgan and other American bankers might have a good deal to do with forcing a compromise. The British press and, on the surface, the British government uphold Snowden in his refusal to accept a reduced share of the German payments, but it was sald Prime Min ister MacDonald was much impressed with the arguments of the financiers

THE Graf Zeppelin completed its I momentous voyage from Friedrichs-hafen to Tokyo ir approximately 102 hours, circled over the Japanese capital and landed at the Kasumigaura flying field forty miles away. For several days the passengers and crew were feted by the wildly enthusiastic Japanese while the dirigible was being refueled and overhauled, the emperor himself taking a leading part in the entertainment of the visitors. As the big ship was being taken from the hungar for its start across the Pacific two struts were broken, and the takeoff was delayed a day. Then the Zeppelin soared into the air on its way to Los Angeles and Lakehurst.

UNCLE SAM decided last week to make a loan of $6,900,000 to help promote the building up of the merchant marine. The administration no-tified the shipping board that it saw no objection to such a loan to the American Export Steamship corporation under the Jones-White act. The company wishes to build four vessels, and this work may prevent unemployment in the Camden yards of the New York Shipbuilding company. Secretary of the Navy Adams also signed a contract with the last named con cern for the construction of one of the cruisers in the fifteen-cruiser program the cost to be $10,903,200.

Relief for agriculturists of several classes is actively under way through the federal farm board. Devil in Automobile Although the automobile is ateadily gailing in populative in the RH islands it encountered great fear and superstition on the part of the natives when first introduced. The first self-propelled vendes was used in the colony in 1905 by an American, who was tour ing the islands. This car was viewed with awe by the languitants, being considered the contraption of a pud-num, and conservative residents sug-gested that the owner be deported as a langerous character.

The second car made its appearance in 1997, destined for the wife of the mayor of Suva. A liverled chauffeur was provided, and it is not known which created the greater stir, the vehicle or its driver. One day the owner found under the machine several bushmen, poking about and exploring the mysteries. Explanations revenied that the Fijians had held a conference about the new vehicle that lucked visible means of locomotion and nad concluded that the affair was nothing less than # devil wagon; turnsfore, partly out of kindness to the owner and partly to prayent the escape of the devil into the bush and into the villages, the "devil doctors" constituted themselves a committee to study this weird thing and to exterminate its concented monster,

Art's Definition

Shakespeare had not art? He was had by art; compelled and held by it. And by that holding and compulsion we get a vision of what art is: not a system, notes are of rules which perchance Aristotle might teach us, or another Greek, but a changing, growing form-compelling power that is individual, but at its greatest expresses an age. This was the great age of English, never repeated in its aggregate of color, wealth, diction and power of words. - Henry Chester fracy, in "English as Experience."

Recipes for Four

To make the Spaghetti with Meat and Vegetable Sauce, boil and drain three ounces of spaghetti. Sauté two tablespoons chopped onion and one chopped green pepper in one tablespoon of drippings, add one-half pound of hamburg steak and cook thoroughly, stirring with a fork to keep it in tiny pieces. Mix one can of vegetable soup and one and one-fourth cups water with one tablespoon of flour, add to the meat, and cook until slightly thickened. and cook until slightly thickened. Season to taste with salt, pepper and kitchen bouquet. Pour over the spaghetti.

For the dessert salad, slice two large bananas lengthwise and place them cut side up in four individual nests of lettuce. Sprinkle with the juice of half a lemon, and pile half a cup of canned apple sauce along the tops. Sprinkle with canned moist cocoanut and chopped walnuts, and garnish with mayonnaise.*

Graf Zeppelin Arrives at Lakehurst, Completing Trip Around World.

BY EDWARD W. PICKARD WITH its arrival at Lakehurst, N. J., the Graf Zeppelin completed its epochal trip around the world, in the course of which only three stops were made for refueling-nt Fried richshafen, Tokyo and Los Angeles.

The Zeppelin made a smooth land ing at 8:07 o'clock Thursday morning having circled the globe in 21 days and 7 hours, breaking all previous records. It had flown approximately eleven and one-half days.

While the huge dirigible displayed ost excellent qualities in the way of safety, speed and cruising ability, the lion's share of the credit for the feat must be given to Dr. Hugo Eckener the airship's indomitable commander and chief pilot. His passengers and crew are giving him unstinted praise for the skill he showed throughout the globe-encircling trip.

Every southern Californian who could get there greeted the Zeppelin at Los Angeles, which was reached on Monday after a flight across the Pacific enlivened only by an electric storm encountered soon after the departure from Tokyo. As it passed down the California coast the airship or Sunday had circled over San Fran-cisco. The getaway from Los Angeles was not easy and quantities of ballast and extra equipment had to be dumped to give it enough lifting power. As it was, the dirigible barely avoided run ning into a network of high power electric wires near Mines field.

An interesting story comes from Japan to the effect that the Zeppelin's the "seppuka" or suicidal atonement of the five officers and twelve enlisted men of the Japanese navy who held themselves blameable for the slight accident that the airship suffered in being taken from the hangar at Kasumigaura airport. Such action by the Japunese would have been in accord with their ancient custom, and the wives of the men might have followed them in death.

CLEVELAND was "up in the air" all week, enjoying the airpiane cares and exhibitions of flying and aircraft exposition. Among the star attractions was Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden of Pittsburgh women's derby that start-ninetcen ladybirds who started fin ished the race. Marvel Crosson was killed, as related last week, and three others were forced out by mishaps Gladys O'Donnell of Long Beach, Callf., won second place and Amelia Eurhart, transatiabile flyer, was third. Colonel Limibergh and his wife, who is now a student flyer, were interested and interesting visitors.

The United States will have no representative in the Schneider cup races in England, for Lieut, Alford Williams was unable to complete the tests of his plane in time and withdrew, Italy's best racing flyer, Captain Motta, was killed while testing one of his planes, and the British were asked on that account to postpone the races, but refused because the financial sacrifices

F ROM Dan to Beersheba," and a great deal further in all direc-tions, Pulestine and the neighboring countries were aflame with revolt. Arabs were massacreing Jews in a score of cities, towns and villages, the native police and military forces were impotent, and Great Britain was rushing warships, troops, marines and airplanes to the Holy Land to restore peace if possible.

The trouble, which has been simmering for months, broke out with clashes between Arabs and Jews in Jerusalen especially at the Walling Wall where Jews have prayed for centuries, and which is the last remaining fragment of Solomon's temple. The rioting spread rapidly, to the Siaboka rabbinical college and a Jewish school at Hebron, where the Jews killed included a number of Americans, and then to many other places in Palestine, Latest reports, made indefinite by strict press censorship, said the Arabs of Transjordinia and Syria were rising in revolt, demanding their "com-plete rights" and the abrogation of European control in those lands. Upon Great Britain fell the burden of meeting the situation, and she responded swiftly. Her troop carrying planes carried hundreds of soldiers from the ing planes went into operation against the Arabs at Jerusalem and elsewhere. ing the Jewish quarter, the British marines were said to have fired on both Arubs and Jews, killing and wounding many.

Lenders of American Jewish organizations called on President Hoover and Secretary Stimson and asked that they take every necessary step to protect the lives and property of American nationals. They were assured of the deep sympathy of both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Stimson for the Palestine sufferers and were told that Great Britain was doing everything possible to restore trangull conditions. Then they called on Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador, and were given the same as CHINA and Russia seemed to be C marking time last week in their Manchurian quarrel, though the propaganda agencies of both nations were active. The Soviet radio station broad-casting from Khabarovak, Siberia, kept telling the Chinese that America and France were plotting to set up an international commission to control the Chinese Eastern railway, and considerable anti-American feeling was created in Harbin until the newspapers there printed a true statement under the Kellogg pact to prevent a Sino-Russian war.

There was another bloody outbreak of the Mongolian Nomads in western Manchuria, scores of Chinese being slain, and naturally the Chinese authorities blamed the Russians for in-

GOVERNORS of the public lands states held a conference in Salt Lake City and received a message from President Hoover in which he suggested that the surface rights of remaining unappropriated public lands should be transferred to the states. Western senators in Washington heard this proposition with surprise and disfavor, looking on it as somewhat of a gold brick, masmuch as the mineral rights which the President would re-tain in the hands of the federal government furnish the revenues which the public land states long have wished to get hold of They contended that the revenues from the surface rights would be insignificant. After the World War the maximum debt of our country was $23,594,000,000 on August 31, 1919.
United States bonds represent as close an approach to pure investment as possible. They are therefore the standard by which other bonds are measured. We have absolute fatth in them, because of our stable, sound government, because of our enormous wealth, our enviable international position, and our favorable economic situation.

The man was lonesome, I sup-pose; he was out of his regular environment and that fact put him into a new frame of mind and led him to throw off his ordinary reserve.

I was walking down the street in Peorla with George Morris a few days ago, when we came upon a man spoke to George in a most friendly way.

"That is Herbert Johnson," George explained to me, "I meet him almost every day on Michigan avenue in Chicago, and he never gives me a second glance, and here he greets me as if we were old friends, Funny, isn't it?" They were both away from

I ran across Carroll in Segovia. and I remember that the recognition of his face as I saw him coming along the street of that foreign city gave me a thrill of delight. No one Segovin speaks any language but Spanish, and I know no Spanish excepting a few scattering phrases such as "how much" and "too much."

I had considered Carroll quite duli and uninteresting in his home town. I had even evaded him when circumstances seemed likely to bring us to-gether. Now we almost threw our arms about each other. We had a common language and a common in-terest, and common friends at home. and in a strange environment these things brought us closer together than we had ever been before. We became almost garrulous in our eagerness to talk to each other. We were like the two Englishmen meeting in Ispahan. He offered me a cigar—one of those terrible foreign cigars, made of excelsior or manila rope, I am sure, the smoking of which would have made me sick or given me a headache for the rest of the day, and I accepted it with real enthusiasm, and lighted it without realizing what I was getting into.
We talked of old experiences and recalled old acquaintances, and revived old memories which I supposed had been wholly forgotten twenty years ago or more. We wandered about the ancient streets in a companionship which suggested the most intimate and friendly relationship, and had I met him on the streets at home I might not have given him even a recognizing nod. I purted from him at the end of the day-he was going north and I southregret. I had never realized before how completely we are bound up in our regular environment—how much the man from home means to us.
